organ and Donald Bollinger was soloist. Selections included "Through The Years," "O Perfect Love," and
"The Lord's Prayer."
The bride, given in marriage by her uncle Edgar Raffensperger, wore an embroidered nylon gown fashioned with basque waistline, portrait neckline and tiny sleeves.
It had a bouffant skirt with a gathered flounce to form a chapel train. She wore a chapel length veil of French illusion which fell from a matching headpiece with seed pearl trim. She carried a white Bible with Stephanotis, pompons and miniature ivy.

Attendants' Gowns

The matron of honor, Elizabeth
W. Galovich, Pittsburgh; the other attendants, Mary Ann Raffensperger, Haddonfield, N. J., and Patricia De Bolt, Carlisle, wore white length gowns of ballet blue Swiss organza over taffeta. The

File Exceptions
To Court Opinion

Attorneys for Walter J. Hamm,
New Oxford R. D. Friday filed exceptions to the opinion handed down by the Adams County court last Friday in the equity action brought by Hugh K. Hamm, Hanover R. 5, against his nephew, Walter Hamm.

The court had held that the uncle and nephew were in partnership in the operation of a Hamilton Twp. farm from 1946 to 1953 and directed that the nephew should make an accounting to the uncle for the period the partnership was in effect. The court also held that the younger Hamm had "wrongfully converted the partnership assets to his own use."

The exceptions filed denied the existence of a partnership and held that the younger Hamm could not have converted partnership assets, because no partnership existed.

Expect Russia To Accept Eisenhower's Test Offer

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials predicted today Russia probably will accept President Eisenhower's proposal to start negotiations Oct. 31 on a worldwide system to prevent sneak nuclear weapons tests.

Eisenhower offered Friday to suspend U.S. nuclear tests for at least one year, provided such negotiations got under way.

His only other condition was that Russia continue its 4½-month-old halt in Soviet tests. The Russians announced the halt after completing a test series.

In a statement and a note to the Kremlin, Eisenhower called for talks in New York under United Nations auspices. Results would be reported through Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to the U.N. General Assembly and the Security Council.

No Red Comment

In Russia, radio Moscow and the Tass news agency reported Eisenhower's proposal without comment. There was no comment from Soviet officials.

In Congress, both Republicans and Democrats voiced praise for the offer.

Graveside Services
For Baby Tonight

Graveside services will be held this evening at 6 o'clock in the Fountaindale Cemetery for Kemberly Sue Dingle, infant daughter of Stanley and C. Emma Shindedecker.
Dingle, Charmaine, who was born dead at the Waynesboro Hospital Friday. The Rev. Joseph Timlin will officiate.

Surviving are a sister, Cheryl Lynn, and a brother, Barry Craig, at home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shindedecker, Fountain-dale, Md., and great-grandparents, Mrs. Emma Shindedecker, Fountaindale, and Mrs. Elizabeth Shindedecker, Charmaine.

Arrangements were made by the Allison Funeral Home, Fairfield.

TOWN, COUNTRY
THEME OF FAIR
FLOWER SHOW

Theme for the forthcoming flower show at the South Mountain Fair will be "Town and Country," Mrs. H. David Pitzer, Biglerville, chairman, announced today.

Ten classes alternating the idea of town and rural life are listed as the arrangements of flowers to be exhibited.

The classes are: "Main Street," a line mass arrangement; "The Open Road," a composition using driftwood and both dry and fresh roadside material; "After Dinner Coffee," a gay arrangement suitable for the coffee table; "Country Kitchen," a design in or on a kitchen container; "Ladies Bridge," an all green floral design suitable for a buffet; "Country Gentlemen," a floral arrangement in an ash tray suitable for a man's desk; "Mantel Magic," a mantel arrangement with one color predominating; "Square Dance," a design to suggest rhythmic gaiety.

"Back To School"

"Back To School" arrangements appropriate to school days are sought from the younger flower arrangers of the county. One "Back To School" class is for youngsters between the ages of nine to 12, the other for those aged 13 to 16.

Mrs. Pitzer urged all exhibitors to read the schedule in the South Mountain Fair Premium book, "and follow the rules published on pages 33 and 34."

Mrs. John Hartlaub, of "Chestnut Hill," Aspers R. D., who is in charge of the specimen division of the flower show has offered a number of suggestions to those entering in the specimen contests. "Flowers that are being exhibited can best be prepared for the show by soaking them in deep pails of cool water several hours before entering them for exhibit. Flowers should be quality specimens. Buds, faded flowers or injured foliage must be removed. Flower stems must be uniform in length and exact in number as per schedule. The complete rules are to be found on pages 33 through 39 of the South Mountain Fair premium book."

In both the arrangement and specimen classes there may be but one entry per exhibitor per class.
The deadline to enter in either section of the flower show is 7 p.m.
Tuesday, September 2.

DRIVER IS FINED

Ray P. Becker, East Berlin R. 1, was fined $150 in York County court Friday on a charge of failing to stop and reveal identity at the scene of an accident.

APPLY FOR LICENSE

Edwin Charles Lippy, 53 Patrick
St., Littlestown, and Mary Louise Barnes, Littlestown R. 2, have filed an application for a marriage license in York.

KUHN-BOWLING
NUPTIALS READ
IN FAIRFIELD

Miss Irene Virginia Bowling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J.
Bowling of Fairfield, became the bride of Frederick Allen Kuhn, Gettysburg, R. 5, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Francis D. Kuhn, of Hanover R.
2, this morning at 10 o'clock in St.
Mary of the Immaculate Conception Church, Fairfield. Rev. Fr. John McAnulty officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Joseph P. Hamilton, Carlisle St., will be the organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Clair Bowling, wore a floor length gown of rose point lace and nylon tulle over slipper satin. The fitted bodice featured a sabra neckline trimmed with sequins and long sleeves tapering to a point over the hands. The bouffant skirt was accented with alternating tiers of lace and pleated tulle down the back of the gown. The headdress was a pleated net cap topped with a row of seed pearls attached to a silk illusion veil. She carried a white prayer book topped with a lavender orchid with streamers.

Attendants Listed

Mrs. Allen Bowling, of Gettysburg
R. 2, sister-in-law of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a gown of yellow net over taffeta with a matching head piece and carried a modern colonial bouquet of lavender gladioli and white carnations. Miss Constance Schroll, Fairfield, and Mrs. Mark Kuhn, of New Oxford R. 1, were the brides-

MRS. F. D. KUHN

attendants. They wore gowns of green net over taffeta identical to that of the matron of honor and matching headpieces. They carried colonial bouquets of yellow gladioli and white carnations.

Rodger Kuhn, of Hanover R. 2, brother of the groom, was the best man and ushers were Dale Bowling, Gettysburg R. 2; Clyde Bowling, 243 N. Washington St., and Allen Bowling, Gettysburg R. 2, all brothers of the bride.

Mother Of Bride

The mother of the bride, Mrs.
Bowling, wore a powder blue lace dress over taffeta with white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. The groom's mother, Mrs.
Kuhn, wore a light blue suit with

Mrs. Housewife — there's a killer in your home!

But you don't need weapons to defend yourself, the National Safety Council says. Just common sense and a lot of caution.

The killer? Poisons. They lurk everywhere — in the medicine cabinet, under the kitchen sink, on dressing tables. You'll even find them on food shelves, in the workshop, and in your cleaning closet.

These camouflaged killers in the home, the council points out, take more than 1,000 lives annually. They take a steady toll throughout the year — about 120 lives a month.

Most frequent victims are children 5 years of age or younger. But right up there as home poison victims are persons in the 25-44 and 45-64 age groups.

The types of accidental poisoners are as varied as the containers they come in — bleach, permanent wave solution, shampoo, nail polish remover, furniture polish, air supplies, bug killers, paint removers.

Regardless of the killer, in just about every instance there's an accomplice to the crime — carelessness or ignorance.

For example, some potential poisoners are properly labeled — but a lot aren't. Doctors aren't always sure if a product is poisonous. And some ingredients, harmless to most persons, can be deadly to others.

Await Peach Harvest

Three youngsters of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Oyler, (Mr. Oyler is manager of the Oyler Fruit Farms, Gettysburg R. 3.) are shown giving a last minute inspection of an over-laden branch of luscious, ripe peaches. Harvesting the fruit is scheduled for next week, Oyler said. The children from left to right are, Jerry,
5; William, 2, and Jane, 7. (Times photo)

Girl Motorist, 15,
Injured In Mishap

Judith M. Arnold, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Arnold, New Oxford R. 2, was injured Friday morning at 10 o'clock when a car upset north of New Oxford on the New Oxford Rd.

State police said Miss Arnold was driving the vehicle, owned by her father, when it skidded off the road, ran up an embankment and upset.

She was removed to the Hanover Hospital in the New Oxford Fire Co.
ambulance, with deep cuts on the left side of the face and neck and possible internal injuries. State police said the 1938 car was demolished and listed its loss at $150.

cured bacon, 60 cents a pound.

CAMPFIRE SUNDAY

"Okefenokee Interlude," a motion picture depicting the wildlife and scenic beauty of the Okefenokee Swamp in Georgia will be shown Sunday evening at 9 o'clock at the weekly "campfire" held by the Gettysburg National Park on E. Cemetery Hill. In case of inclement weather the program will be held in the Cyclorama.

PICNIC IS CANCELLED

The annual picnic of the Women's Democratic Club of Adams County, scheduled to have been held Monday at the cottage of Laura Cratin at McSherrystown has been cancelled because of the illness of Mrs.
Cratin. Mrs. Bess Kapp, president of the club announced today. The next meeting of the club will be held September 26 at the YWCA.

RULES IN EIGHTH

The NAACP action seeks, in part, to set aside an order of the U.S. Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis that would delay integration at the Arkansas high school until the Supreme Court has ruled on the main issues in the case.

FARMERS WILL
UNDER NEW PLAN

Uncle Sam will pay a bonus next year to farmers who put their entire farm in the soil bank for at least five years, the Adams County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office announced today.

"Additional incentives, including a payment of 10 per cent above normal rates will be granted for farmers who put all eligible land on their farms in the program for at least five years," is the way the office put it.

It also said that there will be an increase of $3.50 an acre in the national average annual payment for Conservation Reserve land from average rates of $10.

Anticipating there may be a rush of farmers to take advantage of the new offer, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has set up a priority system for accepting contract applications.

Opens September 1

J. Glenn Miller, office manager for the local ASC office said farmers who wish to put their lands into the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank may make application starting September 1. About October 10 applications will close and then on October 24 final decision will be made on how much land can be put into the reserve. After that will come the decisions on which farms, and how much of those farms, will be eligible.

Farmers may even have to bid to get into the soil bank. One of the priorities will be to farmers who are willing to accept lower than average payments.

The conservation reserve program is being opened early this year because the other phase of the Soil

Supreme Court Gets Plea
On Little Rock Integration

By KARL R. BAUMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Charles Evans Whitaker may hold the answer to whether racial integration must be resumed at Little Rock's Central High School when it reopens Sept. 2.

But the answer will not come before next Thursday, probably later.

It was uncertain whether Whittaker would rule alone, or with other members of the nine-man court.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People Friday asked Whitaker for an order removing all legal barriers to immediate re-entry of Negro pupils into Central High, a focal point in the far-ranging integration controversy.

Thursdays Is Deadline

Whittaker, who had been in touch with the clerk's office earlier in the day, directed that attorneys for the Little Rock school board be advised they have until noon next Thursday, Pacific Coast Time, to file papers in opposition.

Marshall mailed copies of the NAACP petition to the school board even before he filed it with the Supreme Court.

During a train stop at Ogden, Utah, Whitaker said he will have to examine the NAACP documents before deciding what he will do.

James L. Hafer Is Buried Here Friday

Funeral services for James L.
Hafer, 36, Gettysburg R. 3, who died Wednesday morning at the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, were held Friday afternoon from the Bender Funeral Home, Carlisle St., with the Rev. Dr. Paul L. Reaser officiating. Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery.

The pallbearers were: Charles Buit Jr., Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, Clarence C. Smith, Henry T.
Bream, Robert Smith and Charles Huber Jr.

144-H CLUBS
SHOW PRODUCTS
AT ROUND-UP

Two hundred thirteen Adams County girls, members of the 144-H homemaking clubs, will exhibit the products of their summer's activities Monday at the annual 4-H Roundup at the Hoffman Orphanage, Littlestown R. 1.

The program will include an assembly session at 9:30 a.m. and judging and another assembly in the afternoon.

Members of the clothing clubs will display clothing they have made and cooking clubs will show products of their efforts.

The clubs, the enrollment of each and the local leaders in charge, include: Mt. Joy, 13, Mrs. Bertha

47 BOMBINGS ARE ATTRIBUTED TO TERRORISTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) charged today that terrorists, operating as an organized unit, are behind a wave of 47 bombings in civil rights disputes.

"It appears that this defiance of law and order is part of an interstate conspiracy," Kennedy said in a speech prepared for the Senate.

He said: "The bombings follow a discernible pattern, and they seem to be directed at those of our citizens who have expressed their constitutional right to free speech, freedom of assembly, freedom of religion, and freedom to vote."

Kennedy said schools, churches and homes have been the targets of such bombings.

Seeks FBI Help
Kennedy announced he was introducing a bill to let the FBI move in and investigate such attacks.

However, he said he realized it is too late, on this last scheduled day of the 1958 session, to hope for its passage.

Kennedy said the bill could serve as a medium for between-session study, in preparation for an attempt next year to pass similar legislation.

He said the Justice Department has been handicapped because, under existing law, it can't move in on such cases without first having some evidence of an interstate conspiracy.

USS NAUTILUS WILL RECEIVE WARM WELCOME

NEW YORK (AP)—Parades on land and sea will be part of New York City's three-day welcome next week to the atomic submarine Nautilus.

Water-sporting fireboats, destroyer escorts, cutters and private craft will greet the Nautilus when she arrives at the Narrows Monday from Portland, England.

Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, known as the father of the nuclear powered craft and President Eisenhower's personal representative at the arrival ceremonies, will board the Nautilus from a tugboat.

Docks in Brooklyn
The submarine's marine march will take it up the Hudson River to 42nd Street. There the craft will swing back, round the lower tip of Manhattan and dock at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

All ferry lines have been told by the Coast Guard not to cross the river during the maritime march. At the yard, Cmdr. William Anderson and his crew, first men to cross under the arctic icecap, will be reunited with their families.

The reunions will continue on Tuesday. The next day—officially USS Nautilus Day in New York—the Nautilus' personnel will be greeted by Mayor Robert F. Wagner at City Hall after a ticker tape parade along lower Broadway.

Wagner will present medals and scrolls to Anderson and Rickover at a luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Littlestown GIVE AWARDS SEPTEMBER 7

The date for the annual presentation of awards to Little League players was set at a meeting of the officers and managers Thursday evening at the fire engine house for Sunday, September 7, with Monday, September 8, as a rain date. The events will begin at 2 p.m., and will include a doubleheader game, between the four teams of the league, Giants, Vets, Lions, Eagles, and presentation of trophies to the outstanding 12-year-old player; the boy with the most home runs, most triples, the most doubles, best pitching record and the highest batting average.

Tentative plans were made to lay out a second field for minor league play on the grounds donated by the T. C. McSherry family. $150 was realized on the sale of season tickets.

Tentative plans were also made for the Little Leaguers to attend a big league baseball game in Baltimore on September 20. The organization will conduct a stand at the Kingsdale Carnival next week to raise funds for the advancement and promotion of the Little League program in the community.

More than 100 persons were in attendance at the annual family night gathering of the Littlestown Lions Club Thursday evening at the Christ Church picnic grove, near town. A fried chicken supper was served by the women of the church. Erwin A. Rebert gave a brief review of the proceedings of the Lions International Convention held in Chicago.

The program committee, consisting of Paul L. Hollinger and Ralph E. Newman, will be in charge of the next meeting of the club to be held at 7 p.m., Thursday, September 4, in the social hall of St. John's Lutheran Church.

Safety Foundation Urges Overhaul Highways Dept.

HARRISBURG—The Automotive Safety Foundation yesterday recommended a major overhaul of the State Highways Department.

The Washington-based highway research group, hired by the 1957 Legislature to check the department's operations, filed a generally critical report with Governor Leader and proposed that the department be taken out of politics.

The foundation said that while the Pennsylvania Highways Department has more employees than any other in the country, its operations are suffering from a serious shortage of engineers and technical personnel with little likelihood of an immediate improvement.

"These conditions are largely due to the influence of the political patronage system which is traditional in Pennsylvania and which is the basic problem underlying virtually all of the difficulties of achieving effective and economical highway administration," the report stated.

Permanent Solution
"The only permanent solution is to take the department out of politics."

The foundation recommended that all of the department's employees, except a few top officials concerned with policy matters, be placed under civil service.

The foundation said statutory civil service systems cover highway employees in 25 states with all but 13 states currently operating under some form of highway commission. The foundation said Minnesota has had only four highway directors in the past 40 years while Pennsylvania has had 17 highway secretaries over the same period of time.

The rapid turnover, the commission said, made it impossible for continuity of planning and operations.

The Leader Administration has had two highway secretaries in less than four years, neither with highway engineering experience.

Lawyer Leaves Post
Joseph J. Lawler, a former assistant postmaster general, left the job last October to become vice chairman of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

Lewis M. Stevens, his successor, is a Philadelphia lawyer.

The post pays $20,000 a year, which foundation officials said, is com-

YORK COUNTY DIES IN CRASH

A 48-year-old Shiloh man was killed Friday at 9:40 a.m. when his car crashed into a utility pole after swerving off Loucks Rd., a quarter mile east of the Dover Rd., near York.

Harry H. Wolfe was pronounced dead at the scene by Deputy Coroner Walter C. Hill, who said death was caused by a crushed chest.

Wolfe was the 25th highway accident victim in York County this year.

State Police were prevented for about 15 minutes from approaching the auto which was believed alive with electricity from broken power lines. Metropolitan Edison Company sent out crews immediately and power in the Shiloh-Weigeltown area was shut off for three-quarters of an hour, a company spokesman said.

The power company said the lines carried loads of 13,000 and 4,600 volts.

Funeral on Monday

Edwin S. Sharp, 1228 Glendale Rd., York, first to arrive on the scene, reported to police that Wolfe, who was alone in the car, was driving east when he apparently lost control of his vehicle and veered off the road slightly, then on and off again until he hit the pole.

In December, 1956, Wolfe's 22-year-old son, Shirl, died at Mercy Hospital, Baltimore, from injuries received in a motorcycle crash-up.

Mr. Wolfe is survived by his wife, Inez M. Wolfe; a son, Wayne H. Wolfe, Bangor, Me.; his mother, Mrs. Sadie Wolfe, Carlisle; three sisters, Mrs. Eugene Freeman, Mary Wolfe and Dorothy Taylor, all of Carlisle; three brothers, Roy Wolfe, Mechanicsburg; James Wolfe, Harrisburg, and Paul Wolfe, Dillsburg, and a granddaughter, Cheryl Lynn Wolfe, Guernsey, Pa.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at Decker and Decker Funeral Home, York, followed by concluding services at Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Bendersville. Rev. Robert E. Pale, pastor of Shiloh Evangelical Lutheran Church, will officiate. Interment will be in Bendersville Cemetery.

Burgess Issues Building Permits

Burgess Wilbur Plank issued building permits recently to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowers to erect a one-story frame and brick house and carport on Fairview Ave. at a cost of $11,000; Dr. R. F. Sheely, 127 W. Lincoln Ave., to erect a porch enclosure with aluminum windows at a cost of $375, and Clarence M. Swinn, rear of 27 E. Lincoln Ave., to erect a concrete block garage, 14 by 45 feet at cost of $1,200.

Plan 4-H Pig Roundup, Sale

The York-Adams 4-H Pig Roundup and sale will be held at the York Livestock Market near Thomastown Tuesday and Wednesday. Fitting and showing of the animals is scheduled for 11:30 a.m. Tuesday with judging to be held Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. A public auction of all entries will be held Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The three weight classes are as follows: 190 pounds or under; 195 to 200 pounds, and 200 pounds and over.

Three Properties Are Transferred

Three deeds were filed in the office of the register and recorder this morning.

Elson C. and Martha J. Grim, Arendtsville, sold to George H. and Margaret E. Staub, Arendtsville, a property in Arendtsville for $12,100.

Vernon H. and Florence V. Riley and Brook J. and Mildred E. Hull, Liberty Twp., sold to Weldon B. Jr. and Nancy R. Shank, Liberty Twp., a property in Liberty Twp. for $1,500.

Curtis R. and Edna G. Bucher, Emmitsburg, sold to Charles R. Baker Jr. and Annabell E. Madcox, Emmitsburg R. 1, one acre in Freedom Twp.

The property of Robert E. and Ruth A. Watson, consisting of an eight-room stone and frame house and a one-acre lot in Straban Twp. along the Lincoln Highway, was sold at sheriff's sale this morning at the court house to the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, of Hanover, for $11,700. The bank was represented at the sale by Attorney Edwin Buchen.

The Adams County Fruit Growers Association will present a television program on the Television Farmer, Monday afternoon at 12:15 o'clock on WGAL-TV, Channel 8. Participants in the 15-minute program will elaborate on the exceptionally large peach crop in Adams County this year.

H. J. HULL BURIED

Funeral services for Harvey J. Hull, who died Wednesday morning in a Harrisburg Hospital, were held this morning at 10 o'clock at the J. W. Little & Son Funeral Home, Littlestown. Rev. William C. Kams, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, assisted by the Rev. Kenneth D. James, Glen Rock, a former pastor at St. John's, officiated. Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery, Silver Run. FIRES PERFECT SCORE; RULED OUT OF TITLE

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — A Canadian held the Grand American Handicap trapshoot title today, but a heart-broken 16-year-old kid from Illinois is getting a lot of cheers too.

The new champion is 66-year-old Emerson Clark, a foundry superintendent from Preston, Ont., first to carry the coveted crown across the Canadian border.

The kid is Robert V. Nolan of Lewistown, Ill., who posted the only perfect score in the record-breaking field of 2,214 and didn't win a thing.

The youngster broke 100 straight from 19 yards, and while being hailed as the winner of trapshooters' biggest classic was ruled ineligible for the honor by Amateur Trapshooters Assn. officials.

The decision disclosed that young Nolan had paid a $7.50 entry fee which entitled him to shoot for targets only. The total entry fee for those shooting for purses and the championship is $61.

With young Nolan ousted from the top spot, Clark and Jim McCole, a 30-year-old game warden from Gering, Neb., moved into the lead with 99. In the shootoff, Clark emerged a 23-20 victor.

The 59th Grand American winds up today with the National Doubles Championship and the Vandalia Handicap. Both count in the over-all and all-around championships, based on the full week of shooting in which nearly a million and a quarter targets have been thrown.

COUPLE IS WED

EX-BAT BOY IS GENIUS BEHIND L.L. CHAMPIONS

By FRED B. WALTERS

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Little League baseball has its Casey Stengel. His name is Cesar L. Paz, a onetime batboy for the San Antonio Missions' Texas League ball club and clubhouse boy for the old St. Louis Browns.

He guided the Monterrey team to an unprecedented second Little League world championship yesterday, defeating the Kankakee, Ill. Yankees, 10-1.

Veteran Little League officials pegged this year's Monterrey team as much better than the 1957 cinderella outfit that won its first championship under Paz in a fabulous tale of rags-to-riches for kids drawn largely from the slums of the north Mexican industrial city.

"Are Poor Boys" "You have to remember that these are poor boys," Paz, who speaks English in the same staccato fashion he shouts encouragement and advice in Spanish to his ballplayers on the field, said.

"When they come to me, most of them have never even worn shoes. They have no other outside things like American boys — candy stores, movies, television, parks — nothing.

"There is nothing for them but baseball. You put a uniform on them and there is nothing they won't do for you.

"Mexican kids are very single-minded," he said. "You keep telling them something over and over again. Pretty soon it's automatic.

"Are Undernourished" "But mostly I have to show them on the blackboard. Mexican kids don't learn as well on the field. You have to show them on the blackboard.

"I guess they are undernourished, because they are not used to eating as well as the Americans. When they play they are tired. They have not the reserve. They need at least eight hours rest before they are ready again. We do not allow them to swim, or run, or even wrestle, nothing like that, because we are afraid they will tire themselves out."

After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the couple left for a week's honeymoon in the Poconos and New York City. For her going away outfit, the bride chose a navy blue printed cotton suit and navy accessories. On their return the couple will be at home at Old Middletown Rd., Media.

The bride is a graduate of Gettysburg High School and Shippensburg State Teachers College. She is a kindergarten teacher at Roosevelt School, Lima, Pa.

The groom is a graduate of Haverford High School and Shippensburg State Teachers College where he was a member of Phi Sigma Chi. Following military service at Fort Bliss, Tex., he taught at Penncrest High School, Lima, Pa.

There were out-of-town guests from Haverford, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Mifflintown, Media, Drexel Hill, Norristown, Carlisle, Shippensburg, Reading, York, State College, Clarksburg, W. Va., Waltham, Mass., Wheeling, W. Va., Salem, W. Va., Shinston, W. Va., Haddonfield, N. J., Louisville, Ky., and Greenbelt, Md.

CO-ED REACHES AMATEUR GOLF FINALS TODAY

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer
DARIEN, Conn. (AP) — The Women's National Amateur Golf Championship came down to a pulchritude-packed final today. It pairs a 20-year-old college girl, who wants to win but won't devote her life to it, and a veteran of 25, who thinks it's time to settle down and get a job.

The rivals in this 36-hole match over the 6,467-yard Wee Burn course were Anne Quast, the Stanford University senior from Marysville, Wash., and Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., a former champion who says she's going to spend next week looking for a job in the public relations field.

Miss Romack won the championship in 1954 and has been to the quarter-finals three other times since her first appearance in the tournament in 1952. Miss Quast first played in the women's championship in 1952, when she wasn't quite 15 years old. She got to the semifinals in 1956 and the quarter-finals in 1955 and 1957.

Until she pulled out an amazing one-up victory over last year's champion, JoAnne Gunderson, Friday, Anne was beginning to think that was about her limit.

"I'd give anything to win the Women's Amateur. I've felt that way ever since I've been playing golf," she said. "But I have no intention of devoting my life to it — and you could."

Miss Romack survived a shaky start Friday and defeated Meriam Bailey of Palatine, Ill., another perennial semifinalist, 4 and 2.

Her body was discovered by Dr. Foster Bennett who is connected with the Pennsylvania Hospital for Mental and Nervous Diseases. She had been undergoing treatment there for two weeks as an out-patient.

Miss Brown's father is Dr. J. Douglas Brown, a noted economist. A spokesman at Princeton said Dr. Brown had been notified of his daughter's death while vacationing with his wife in Oregon. He was expected to arrive here by airplane today.

Old houses, too, can be booby-traps for children. Tots can be poisoned by peeling paint on window sills and frames, or by crumbling plaster. Each can cause lead poisoning.

The way to prevent poisoning? 1. "Education," the council says. "Parents should be made aware of the dangers lurking in their homes."

2. Stricter state and federal laws. "Ingredients should be listed on bottles or cans containing poisonous substances — even products valuable to our everyday living."

Best way, though, is to prevent the poisoning. How? By following these rules: (1) Store medicines out of the reach of children, (2) Don't put poisons near foods — it's too easy to confuse the two, (3) Don't take medicine in the dark, (4) Keep poisonous substances out of soft-drink bottles, used jelly jars, or pans, for example, and (5) Have a locked poison compartment in your home.

Stella and Gust Sianis, Reading restaurant operator, were married Friday with the understanding the bride must return to Greece by Sept. 12.

Once in Greece, Mrs. Sianis must apply for a priority visa, a process which takes at least six months, said Paul A. Adams, Berks County immigration and naturalization officer. He said she does not automatically become a citizen as a result of her marriage to an American citizen.

The groom plans to stay at his restaurant. The bride originally came to the United States to visit her uncle, William Stavrinou, at Medford Lakes, N. J. She and Sianis were married by Justice of the Peace Stephen Wanner, Hamburg, Pa.

Boy, 12, Writes His Own Requiem

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The poor little rich boy provided his own requiem — a simple poem of faith.

The lad was Timothy Getty, 12-year-old son of oil multimillionaire J. Paul Getty, said by some to be America's richest man.

Timothy's poem was read at his funeral Friday. Somehow it brightened the little Church of the Flower in a way adult speakers could not.

Getty himself did not attend. His former wife, Mrs. Louise Dudley Lynch Getty, the boy's mother, was present.

Timothy was a friendly, outgoing boy, a bit on the philosophical side, perhaps because of illness. He underwent several operations for a brain tumor.

The highlight of the Christian Science rites was the reading of Timothy's poem:

"God protects me through the night.
"God will help me each fight.
"Because His love is oh, so dear,
"I know in God I cannot fear.
"God will show me, day by day,
"If I follow in His way."

DAUGHTER OF DEAN SUICIDES

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The daughter of the dean of the faculty at Princeton University was found shot to death Friday night in her West Philadelphia apartment.

Police said Elizabeth Brown, 25, apparently had taken her own life. A 30-caliber rifle she had purchased in a department store Thursday was found between her feet. There was a single wound in her chest. Dr. Joseph Campbell, assistant medical examiner, said Miss Brown apparently shot herself Thursday night.

Her body was discovered by Dr. Foster Bennett who is connected with the Pennsylvania Hospital for Mental and Nervous Diseases. She had been undergoing treatment there for two weeks as an out-patient.

Miss Brown's father is Dr. J. Douglas Brown, a noted economist. A spokesman at Princeton said Dr. Brown had been notified of his daughter's death while vacationing with his wife in Oregon. He was expected to arrive here by airplane today.

4 AREA AIRMEN FINISH COURSES AT LACKLAND

Four area airmen have finished their initial course of Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Texas.

A/3c Rex E. Baltzley, son of Marion Irene Baltzley, 22 York St., will attend the technical training school for radio and radar technicians at Keesler AFB, Miss. He is a graduate of Gettysburg High School.

A/3c Richard F. Riser, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Riser, 104

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Sanders are vacationing in New York.

Mrs. Edna Hafer and daughter, Madge, this place, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Strausbaugh, Spring Grove, spent several days at Atlantic City, N. J., recently.

Arthur Diehl is spending a week in the Poconos Mountains.

Miss Sherry Harris has returned home after spending four weeks at Camp Harmony Hall, Highspire.

Mrs. Mary Carson, Merion Station, is spending several weeks with relatives and friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Bare have returned from a two-week visit with relatives and friends at Jefferson, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Myers attended the funeral of a relative in Philadelphia Thursday.

The Misses Donna and Barbara Butt, Lancaster; Miss Kathy Butt, Hanover, and Gregory Butt, Thomasville, were recent guests at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Butt.

The 4-H Club girls will hold their last meeting for the season at the home of Mrs. Betty Hollinger, Tuesday.

Coach George Wilson told his Detroit Lions it was time to wipe out a couple of nasty rumors. His National Football League champions responded by knocking over the Cleveland Browns 17-7 in a pre-season exhibition game at Detroit Friday night.

The victory helped the Lions forget last week's 35-19 drubbing at the hands of the College All-Stars. It also kept intact the team's record of never having lost to the Browns on home grounds.

On the West Coast, the Los Angeles Rams capitalized on Billy Wade's passing and a tough defense and defeated the New York Giants, 38-10, in a pre-season set to at Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum.

Layne is Ready Wilson, starting his second season as head coach of Detroit, said he didn't make a speech to his players before the game. "I merely told them everybody has been saying we look lousy in camp, and we looked lousy against the college boys," he said. "It was time they proved a little something to themselves and to everybody else."

If there was one thing the victory proved, it was that quarterback Bobby Layne is ready for his 1-4 season of professional football.

Layne, whose career was jeopardized by a broken ankle suffered last December against the same Browns, directed the Detroit team to its only long scoring march. It covered 80 yards in 11 plays and the former Texas star passed for more than half the yardage.

28-Yard Field Goal The Rams, in posting their second straight exhibition victory, had to come from behind.

Ben Agajanian's 28-yard field goal put the Giants out in front in the opening quarter.

But Wade shot the Los Angeles team out in front to stay with two touchdown passes in the second quarter. He hit Jon Arnett on the goal line with a 35-yard strike and then fired a 39-yard touchdown pass to Del Shofner.

TOKYO (AP) — Deadly encephalitis — sleeping sickness — is reaching epidemic proportions in Japan and South Korea. Health agencies report 202 dead and 1,128 ill, mostly in Korea where only 24 of the known cases recovered. So far no Americans have been reported affected.

MILLVILLE, Pa. (AP) — One peppercorn coming up to satisfy the contract signed in 1794.

The peppercorn is the annual fee, payable Aug. 28, stipulated by John W. Eves when he rented two acres of land to Millville Quakers 164 years ago. The contract runs for 999 years—until 2793.

In recent years the contract has been somewhat ignored. Not that the Millville Quaker Meeting couldn't afford the annual peppercorn. It was just one of those things that was forgotten.

John Eves, a descendant of John W. who founded this east-central Pennsylvania community, decided to revive the old custom of paying the peppercorn Friday. He notified the Quaker group, which is to vote Sunday to pay the peppercorn.

All Contestants Awarded Prizes
At Costume Contest: Everyone won a prize Friday evening at the costume contest held by the Gettysburg Recreation Association at the high school playground.

And most of the prizes turned out to be very satisfactory to youngsters on warm evenings—tickets for sundaes and sodas at various soda grills throughout the town.

Two special prizes for youngsters appearing in costumes made of paper and pins went to Caroline Boyd, who got a bottle of perfume, and Donald Gigous, who received a softball.

Philip Baker won the most unusual costume contest appearing as "Tom Sawyer" and even using artificial freckles to more closely simulate the hero of Mark Twain's famous book. Robert Saunders, who was garbed as a drum major won first prize in the most colorful costume division.

Douglas Boyd, brother of Caroline Boyd, won the first prize for the smallest contestant.

Patricia Buice, who was garbed as a Chinese girl, won the first prize for nationality costumes and Leslie Dawney had the oldest appearing costume. Jay Tonsil was awarded first prize as the person having the most authentic cowboy costume.

WALKING IN THE WOODS

There is something most inspiring and exciting about a walk in the woods. You look upon trees of all ages. You feel garbed in years, and there is a silence that is stimulating as you walk over ground perhaps centuries old, like the great red woods in California.

There is more than beauty to a walk through the woods. The air has fragrance to it.
There is personality, also, to the trees. You look upon in a great forest. And there is always that fragrance which any large forest has. You wonder what animals live there and what is the manner of their life? How quickly a great forest swallows up an individual.
Many have gotten lost and died in forests.

People like John Muir lived a great part of their lives in forests, seeking new light on many things, but mostly interested in the preserving of trees that have lived for centuries. How akin to man are these trees, anyway. Every tree has a story of its own to tell. In those great California giants there is one that is named Gen. Grant.
All those remarkable trees, however, seem to have earned the title of general, for they seem to have been endowed with power after such a great age. Yet they are as silent, as was Gen. Grant, in speech!

There is friendliness about all trees that is inspiring. I feel like saluting all the big and little ones along my way through life. It also always interests me to see a bird's nest in a tree. It has a relationship, too, that each bird loves in its own way. I have watched birds select their home, and watched them build it—and then watched the little family gradually go about their life work.

He longed to find the Road to Fame.
But not a highway bore that name.

He thought to glory there must be
A level path that he should see.

But every road to which he came Possessed a terrifying name.

He never thought that Fame might Lurk

Along the dreary path called Work.

He never thought to go and see What marked the road called Industry.

Because it seemed so rough and high,

He passed the Road to Service by.

Yet had he taken either way
He might have come to Fame some day.

Idol Of Many, Dies Of Cancer

New York, Aug. 17 (AP)—Babe
Ruth is dead.

The one-time Yankee slugger, wasted by two years' illness and almost constant pain, died of cancer of the throat at 7:01 p.m. last night. He was 33.

A priest who administered the last rites of the Roman Catholic church said "the Babe has been prepared since July 21 for his death."

Ruth never knew that he had cancer, however.

President Truman led the nation in paying tribute to the Babe, who batted his way to major league baseball immortality during 22 playing years.

The president's message of condolence said: "A whole generation of boys now grown to manhood will mourn the passing of the home run king of the baseball world."

"Babe Ruth had all the qualities of a hero, and as an exemplar of clean sport, was the inspiration to tens of thousands of rooters of all ages all over the country."

Food Fair Stores Buy Best Markets

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The 22-store chain of Best Markets Inc. has been sold to Food Fair Stores Inc.

No disclosure was made in the announcement Friday of the terms. It was stated the purchase was made with Food Fair stock.

The purchase was the second acquisition in a week for Food Fair which just bought Seizer
Super Stores Inc. of Jacksonville, Fla.

Food Fair has 367 markets in nine states from Connecticut to Florida. Last year its sales were over 600 million dollars.

Best, which operated stores in eastern Pennsylvania, and southern New Jersey, had announced its sale to the Penn Fruit Co. July 22 but on Aug. 8 Best directors rejected the transaction. Best formerly was known as Baltimore Markets. Its annual sales ran about 22 million dollars.

County History Great Conewago Church

By B. F. M. MacPherson

The historical and genealogical study of Black's Graveyard (Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian) will be discontinued for the next two weeks in this column, in order that some notes on Great Conewago Presbyterian Church might be published.

Wanted: A new roof for Great Conewago Presbyterian Church, located at Hunterstown, Adams County, Pennsylvania.

At the present time various organizations and individuals, friends and members of Great Conewago Church, are raising funds to provide a new roof for this old structure. To assist their efforts, if possible, two historical sketches, pertaining to the church and burial ground, will be presented in this column.

The Presbytery of Donegal was the fifth, in order of formation, in America. To this Presbytery Great Conewago Presbyterian Church belonged. Named for Great Conewago Creek, this church appears on the minutes of Presbytery in 1740. Apparently some sort of organization existed prior to 1738.

Presbytery Sends Supplies

For the first seven or eight years there was no settled pastor at Conewago. Supplies were sent by Presbytery, the first of these being the Rev. Samuel Calvin, of Falling Springs Church. The Rev. John Lynn, at a meeting of Presbytery held July 2, 1741, was appointed to supply the charge. On September 7, 1743 the congregation called the Rev. John Steel but he declined.
Presbytery sent more supplies among whom were the Rev. Mr. Cragg, the Rev. Mr. Allison, the Rev. Mr. Hym-man and the Rev. Adam Boyd.

In 1747 or 1748 the congregation
at Great Conewago called the Rev.
Samuel Thompson (or Thomson).
He accepted and for over 30 years faithfully served this church. When Mr. Thompson resigned the charge in 1779 the congregation "afforded a gratuity for the support of Mr.
Thompson, to his satisfaction."

Minutes Of Presbytery

The minutes of Presbytery state:
Pennsboro, November 14, 1749. Mr.
Anderson, at the meeting house door, gave public advertisement that if any could advance any lawful objections against the Rev. Samuel Thompson being set apart to the work of the holy ministry, to both societies in this place and no objection appearing, Mr. Craighead
(Rev. Alexander Craighead) delivered a sermon from Ezekiel 33:6, and presided in the work of ordination. Accordingly Mr. Samuel Thomson was set apart to the work of the sacred ministry by the imposition of hands, etc.

The expression "both societies" referred to the Upper and Lower Pennsboro Churches, or, respectively, Meeting House Springs and Silver Spring.

Health Became Impaired
Mr. Thompson continued the pas-torship of these congregations until March 26, 1745. Then, on account of impaired health, he asked to be released from Lower Pennsboro (Silver Spring), and gave his whole time to Upper or Meeting House Springs. His stay at the latter church does not seem to have been particularly "fruitful" for there was much dissension between pastor and people and in the church at large. Mr. Thompson resigned the charge on November 14, 1749, and went to Great Conewago Presbyterian Church, which had given him a call several years before.

In the old burial ground at Meeting House Springs, located near Carlisle, Pennsylvania, there is a large flat stone, covering an entire grave, with the Thomson coat-of-arms cut thereon and the following inscription:

"Here Lys the Body of Janet Thomson, wife of Rev. Samuel Thomson
who decaes'd
Sept ye 29th, 1744
aged 33 years."

This is the oldest marked grave in the graveyard, and so far as can be ascertained the oldest marked

G. W. LINIGER, 21, WINS NATIONAL PLOWING MEET

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Two rugged farm youths with a talent for cutting a wide, deep furrow reigned from the pinnacle of American plowdom today.

Their victories in the 16th national plowing contest were a tribute to youth.

George W. Lininger, 21, of Springport R.D. 2, Mich., wound up as the winner of the level land plowing contest Friday. The bashful dairy farmer was the youngest ever to win this national event.

His triumph came the day after Charles L. Stamp, 23, Watkins Glen, N.Y., fruit grower, grabbed top honors in contour plowing. He was the second most youthful farmer to ever wind up as America's premier plowman.

Both will represent the United States in the world championships in Northern Ireland next year.

Wins 370 Out Of 400

Lininger's furrow work on a half-acre plot brought him 370 points out of a possible 400. The runner-up was David H. Bay, 30, a dairy farmer from Canandaigua R.D. 1, Ontario County, N.Y.

Agriculture Secretary Benson
gave a speech in Hershey Stadium in which he said the cost-price squeeze is still a basic problem for American farmers despite the approach of farm income to record levels in 1958.

Prices received by farmers in the first half of this year, Benson said, were 8 per cent higher than a year ago and 10 per cent above two years ago.

"The cost price squeeze still exists as a basic problem," he said, "because the damage was done years ago."

CRUSHED TO DEATH

University, died Friday in the instant that the 4-ton "I" beam fell

TRIBUTE TO LABOR

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov.
Leader has called on Pennsylvanians to pay "tribute to the spirit and accomplishments of the men and women of labor" on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 1.

The day is dedicated to those on whom the welfare of the nation depends, he said Friday in a statement.

DETROIT (AP)—Worker walkouts slowed 1959 car production today as local union leadership was accused by a General Motors spokesman of "calous disregard for its members" in calling a strike at this time.

Some 4,000 United Auto Workers were off the job at plants of the Big Three auto makers.

The scattered walkouts came as the 13½-million-member AFL-CIO pledged its support to the UAW if it strikes the auto industry to back up demands in current contract talks. Both financial and manpower aid was voted the UAW Thursday by the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

Let's Look At The Record

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.

President Wisconsin State

A MILLION FRESHMEN

From Kindergarten Through Ph.D.

Finals College Freshman Year

Is Toughest Test

A MILLION young Americans will enroll for the first time in higher education courses next month. Most of them will be full-time freshmen in America's 1614 colleges, universities and junior colleges.

Slightly over a half million of them will never reach the junior, or third year, toward the four-year Bachelor's degree that is the fond goal of most. The first year will eliminate most of these.

This estimate is based upon percentage ratios from prior experience tables throughout the nation.

Such figures have caused thousands of college professors, parents, and students to ponder the factors that cause these freshmen to fail.

THROUGH THE YEARS, if you will permit my proudest boast, it has been my privilege to help hundreds to become so oriented that they achieved their goals.

With a still larger number I can claim no success whatsoever.

The only comfort (beyond the thanks of appreciative individuals)
I can salvage from the latter group is that faculty counselors and deans of men or women had previously also failed. Otherwise their problems would not have been referred to me, or the students would not have sought a conference with me.

Since no two cases are alike,
there are no set solutions to a group of standard situations when one is trying to help a freshman who is floundering.

ONE COLLEAGUE, in trying to produce a simple answer used to attribute all freshman troubles to environmental change.

"It is their first year away from home," was his stock summary.
It sounds good but will not stand scrutiny. Too many who live at home through their freshman year also have academic troubles.

Another often heard, sweeping generalization is perhaps valid in some cases: "It is the freshman's first experience with education that is not compulsory."

It is a sad fact that every year produces a small crop of extremely naive freshmen who actually seem to think they are getting along fine merely because no one is constantly nagging at them.

As one happy but flunking freshman expressed it: "This is the life! No overtime in study halls;
no nasty phone calls to parents;
no transient officer stooping about!"

Such naive attitudes are more often found among those so near the college they are living

Report Senators Will Ask To Move Club To Minneapolis

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators, after 56 seasons in the capital, may ask permission soon to shift to Minneapolis.

Club President Calvin Griffith refuses to be pinned down. Griffith denied Friday reports he already had decided to seek American League approval of a transfer.

But, to the relief of Minneapolis interests hoping to bag a major league franchise, Griffith added he hasn't made up his mind one way or the other.

Whether the American League club owners would tolerate a move out of Washington was still another question.

Two Oppose Move

Several, including Tom Yawkey of Boston and Del Webb of New York, have declared the American League ought to remain in the capital for reasons of prestige. They also contend that despite skimpy attendance in recent years Washington is a sound baseball city.

President Will Harridge of the American League said he had received no word from Griffith about a decision to move.

Minneapolis is considering expansion of its modern stadium to 41,000 capacity, almost double the present size. Ancient Griffith Stadium seats about 28,500 and is seldom filled.

Congress has authorized a new 40,000-seat arena for Washington, but Griffith dislikes the location and, as owner of his present quarters, is sensitive about becoming a tenant elsewhere.

The Griffith family has controlling stock interest in the team and now wields a clear-cut majority in its board of directors.

TERRY THROWS ONE-HITTER TO BEAT SENATORS

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
When it comes to pitching against Washington, Ralph Terry of the Kansas City A's is either very, very good, or very, very bad.

Since coming up with the New York Yankees in 1956, the 22-year-old right-hander has a 4-4 record against the Senators. He's blanked 'em in all four victories, and has failed to go the distance in all four defeats.

Terry was almost perfect against the Senators Friday night. He didn't walk a man and faced only 28 — one over the minimum — while giving up but one hit, a third inning single by losing pitcher Russ Kemmerer, in 1-0 victory that hoisted the A's into a sixth place tie with Cleveland in the American League standings.

Yanks Beat White Sox
Elsewhere in the AL, the New York Yankees ripped the Chicago White Sox 8-5 and regained a 12½-game lead. Boston closed within two games of the White Sox, defeating Cleveland 4-3. Baltimore grabbed fourth place from Detroit by beating the Tigers 2-1.

Mickey Mantle, who hit his 36th home run in the first inning, doubled home the clincher in a four-run seventh for the Yankees. Elston Howard and Gil McDougald also homered for the champs, while Sherm Lollar reached his one-season high with his 17th homer for the Sox. Duke Maas (7-8) won it with two innings of hitless relief after Chicago tagged Johnny Kucks for two runs and a 4-3 lead in the sixth. Early Wynn (10-13), was the loser and now is 0-5 against New York for the year.

It was Early's 20th loss in the majors. He's won 245, tops among active pitchers.

Ike Delock won his 12th for the Red Sox, giving up 10 hits, one Rocky Colavito's 29th home run. Frank Malzone hit his 12th homer for the Red Sox, then brought in the winning run with an eighth-inning double off Hoyt Wilhelm (2-7), who lost his sixth in a row.

Gene Woodling's lead-off home run won it for the Orioles in the sixth against Jim Bunning (9-8).

Upper Adams Little League

The Bendersville Yankees captured the overall championship of the Upper Adams Little League Friday evening by edging the Arentsville Cardinals 8-7 at Arentsville before a huge crowd. The Yankees won the second half title after the Cardinals had captured first half honors.

Five misuses by the Cardinals played a big role in the Yankees' triumph, the winners collecting but four hits as compared to 10 by the losers.

The Yankees, who had but one earned run, scored the tie-breaking run in the last of the sixth. Wagman walked, raced to second on Taylor's sacrifice, continued to third on an overthrow at first base and streaked home when the return throw to third base went into the dugout.

All-Star Game

Next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock the annual All-Star game will be played under the lights of the Biglerville High School Athletic Field.

One team will be composed of players from the Cardinals, Red Sox and Braves, and the other from the Yankees, Phillies and Pirates.

Another overflow crowd is expected.

CARDS WALLOP PHILLIES 9 TO 1; GIANTS BEATEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Everything comes hard for Sad Sam Jones. Even when he wins. Take Friday night. The St. Louis Cardinals gave him some infrequent hitting support and he beat the Philadelphia Phillies 9-1 with a three-hitter.

Trouble is, it might have been Sad Sam's second major league no-hitter. He gave the Phils chills through seven innings. Then came the eighth. Ex-Card Rip Repulski lined a pinch-hit homer. Richie Ashburn doubled. Solly Hemus, another onetime Cardinal, singled.

Then Jones went back to work, fanning a pair to get out of the inning and adding another strike-out in the ninth for a total of 14. That's a night game record in the majors.

Redlegs Beat Giants

While the Cardinals were moving back into a fourth place tie with the Los Angeles in the National League standings, also idle Milwaukee regained a seven-game lead as Cincinnati rapped second place San Francisco 7-3. Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Cubs 8-2.

Sad Sam's 14 strikeouts also matched the one-game high in the majors this season. Detroit's Jim Bunning did it in the AL. Don Cardwell (2-2) lost it.

The Reds bagged it against losing reliever Marv Grissom on Ed Bailey's two-run double. The Giants had five hits, just one after Vally Thomas' two-run homer built a 3-0 lead in the fourth off starter Joe Nuxhall. Brooks Lawrence, who had lost nine straight, won it in relief.

The Pirates won against Marcelino Solis (3-3). Rookie George Witt won his seventh with Vern Law's relief help.

TURNER BEATS STEPAN REDL; WANTS CHAMP

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Gil Turner had his first victory of the year today—a decision over Stefan Redl—and his manager already was hollering for a title shot with welterweight champion Virgil Akins.

"We'd draw a million in Philadelphia," said manager George Katz. "Remember, Gil is the last fighter to beat Akins. He did it easy in Atlantic City, Sept. 18, 1957."

That was the 27-year-old Turner's last victory until he whipped Redl by unanimous decision in their 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night. But win or lose, the ever-pressing Philadelphia contender gives the fans a good show.

Will Use Both
"We'll use both Turner and Redl soon," said Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club. "They put on a good fight."

That it was from the opening bell. Redl, a superbly conditioned, 25-year-old from Passaic, N.J., pestered his sluggish rival through the first half of the brisk battle. Moving in and out and side to side, Redl scored with jabs and rights to the body and head.

A flash knockdown in the third round upset the German-reared Redl momentarily, but he kept buzzing around Turner until Gil's body banging finally wore him down.

Turner Takes Over

The second half of the scrap, and especially the vital last two rounds were dominated by the heavier—151½ to 147—Turner.

The three officials had Turner ahead by the following scores: Referee Teddy Martin, 63-1; Judge Harold Barnes, 7-3; Judge Mike Davidowitch, 6-4. The AP had it even in rounds, 6-5, but Turner the winner.

It was the second defeat for Redl who has been fighting pro 28 months. He has won 20. Turner's record is 56-17-2.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Postmaster Louis A. Redl received a news release Friday from the Post Office Department in Washington announcing the speedup of mail delivery in the New York metropolitan area. It was dated for use at 2 p.m. Thursday.

HONOLULU (AP) — Six Japanese warships, the first to visit the U.S. mainland and Canada since before World War II, left Pearl Harbor for Seattle Friday.

They were tied up here three days while crewmen spent a busy time sightseeing.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Attorney Ben Henderson, a coin collector, came in possession of four rare pennies valued at $40. He rubbed them with olive oil and placed them on a window sill so the sun would turn all of them the same color.

A few minutes later he saw pigeons flying away with them.

Making Money With Livestock Depends On Feeding Costs And Proper Management Factors

By FRANK S. ZETTEL
Adams County Farm Agent

Making money with livestock depends on two things: (1) ratio between the cost paid for the feed and the price received for the livestock, and (2) management.

What is management? It's a term used often that covers so much. What does it mean here? A study of hog producers' records in Illinois shows what the management factors are.

For 1957, the high one-third of the hog producers had an average return of $170 per $100 feed fed. The low one-third had $119 per $100 feed fed. The average for the whole group was $144.

Feed Conversion
1. Feed conversion was the most important difference between the high and low farms. The high third used 373 pounds of grain and protein to produce 100 pounds of hogs. The low third used 498 pounds.

2. Pigs weaned per litter was the second important factor. The high farms weaned 7.2; the low farms weaned 6.5 pigs per litter.

3. Death loss after weaning was 1.4 per cent of total weight produced for the high farms; 2.3 per cent for the low farms.

Better Marketing
4. The high farms did a better job of marketing. Their average sale price was 50 cents a hundred pounds more.

Good sanitation and health were not directly measured in these records. But their importance is reflected in all four factors listed.

You can stretch your pasture season this fall and again next spring by using small grains . . . rye, wheat or barley.

Either Balbo or Tetra Petkus, has yielded more forage than either wheat or barley. Total seasonal yields for the two varieties of rye have run over three tons of dry matter per acre. It seems that Tetra Petkus rye outyielded Balbo in fall production. Balbo was the heavier yielding during the spring grazing season.

Dual, wheat, a new variety recently recommended in Pennsylvania, also shows promise. You can plant it early for fall and spring pasture, and still harvest it for grain next summer.

We can plant small grains for pasture throughout Pennsylvania any time after early August. You'll find they should be ready for grazing six to seven weeks after planting. In general, one acre of small grain pasture will provide grazing for every four mature animals . . . and you'll want to plant three bushels of seed to the acre to have a good, heavy stand.

Yes, research has shown that when properly fertilized and managed, you can grow small grains for pasture, and still harvest them for grain with little or no reduction in grain yield.

Legume Pastures
Heavy rainfall in Pennsylvania this summer has produced lush growth of pasture . . . but there's danger that livestock losses from bloat may result from pasturing lush legume growth. Alfalfa, red clover, and ladino clover may be bad actors as far as bloat is concerned. Birdsfoot trefoil is the only common legume pasture plant with a clear record of not producing bloat. However, legume pastures are excellent feed . . . and with a little precaution on the owner's part, such pastures are relatively safe.

Here are some do's and don'ts that will help you eliminate pasture bloat problems. Never turn hungry cattle onto lush legume pasture. Wet legumes are much more dangerous than dry legumes, so it's best to avoid turning cattle or sheep into wet legume pastures, unless they have had an opportunity to get used to it.

It's well to alternate the herd between grass and legume pasture at least twice a day. A sudangrass pasture used alternately with alfalfa or ladino pasture will furnish the best kind of feed, with little danger of bloat. In addition you might give cows or sheep access to some good hay every day, by putting it in a hay rack on pasture, or feeding it in the barn.

For the sake of safety first, keep a little bloat medicine on hand . . . just in case. Your veterinarian can supply relatively safe materials for this purpose.

No, bloat need not be a summer-time nightmare for you at all. Wise use of legume pasture will give you maximum production of meat and milk, while a minimum legume pasture will give you maximum production of meat and milk, with a minimum of bloat danger.

Joe Cronin and Bucky Harris won American League pennants with two different clubs. Cronin managed the 1933 Washington and 1946 Boston teams. Harris led the 1924 and 1925 Washington and 1947 New York Yankees to victories.

ON THE HOUSE

By JOHN O. B. WALLACE

The Associated Press

Under certain conditions and with a reasonable amount of ingenuity, an air conditioning system can be set up at little expense.

This Manhattan apartment dweller, shuddering through sleepless nights at the expense of redecorating and furnishing larger quarters, turned the trick with a 20-inch ventilating fan and a bolt of pink ribbon.

The ribbon was contributed by the little woman, whose cajoling and persistency were responsible for the project.

It was either do or falter on the brink of bankruptcy.

A store-bought air conditioning system seemed highly imprudent for the household after looking over the bills for the movers, new furniture, flooring and painting.

We'll return to the pink ribbon later. The layout of the apartment and its orientation were factors contributing to the success of the scheme.

The straight-line arrangement places the living room at the north end of the apartment, the bedroom at the south end, and the bath, kitchen, foyer and hall in between.

On the east side, a six-foot-wide arway separates the apartment and the adjoining building.

The wall of the adjoining building is never in direct sunlight.

There are two floors above the apartment which insulate the apartment from roof heat — and fresh air circulates constantly and freely in the arway.

From these set conditions, the air conditioning idea was born.

The 20-inch fan, which has a reversible three-speed motor and thermostatic control, was mounted in the lower half of the large bedroom window. The top half of this window was tightly closed.

There are two living room windows. One was sealed completely. The bottom half of the second was closed; the top half was lowered about three inches.

The bottom part of the bathroom window was tightly closed; the top part was lowered about two inches. The front door was sealed to prevent any air from being pulled into the apartment from the outside hall.

The fan was set on "out" and started. Its suction effect pulled fresh air through the opening at the top of the living room window, across the living room into the hall, thence into the bedroom and emptied it into the arway outside.

Simultaneously, a lesser current of air was being pulled into the bathroom through the smaller opening at the top of the bathroom window, out of the bathroom from under the bathroom door and into the hall. There it joined the current of fresh air originating in the living room and in turn was pulled into the bedroom and out into the arway.

Cooking odors from the kitchen may be emptied out of the apartment in two ways. The kitchen can be closed off by louvered doors and the odors or heat are carried away by an overhead ventilator in the kitchen.

Or the overhead ventilator can be closed and the louvered doors opened. In this way, cooking odors and heat are pulled out and into the current passing down the hall on its way toward the arway.

By reversing the fan to the "in" position, the current is simply changed in its direction, not its effect.

In this pattern, the fresh air is drawn in from the arway into the bedroom, pushed into the hall past the kitchen and the bath, thence into the living room and out through the opening at the top of the living room window.

Here, the pink ribbon comes into the picture. Small lengths were put from the floor and ceiling and in various parts of the apartment.

By watching the movement of the ribbon, the desired results were achieved. Window openings in the living room, bath and bedroom were experimentally made wider or narrower — and the speed of the fan was adjusted to fit the need.

On one recent warm day, the temperature inside the apartment was lowered about 10 degrees in about 15 minutes. If the temperature falls below a certain point, the fan automatically cuts off. It starts again automatically when the temperature rises.

Set the fan at low speed, with the window openings adjusted accordingly, and the apartment is kept comfortable and airy throughout the night. A twist of one control to its maximum point will keep the fan operating constantly at any temperature.

GREENVILLE, Ala. (AP) - Greenville's First Christian Church will change ministers after Sunday's services.

STORE MANAGER PUTS NEW LIFE IN OLD CHURCH

RELIGION IN THE NEWS
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A businessman-pastor is putting new life into the historic Little Church of La Villita, one of the oldest Protestant churches in San Antonio.

In less than two years, the Rev. R. Paul Soupiet has converted it from a sometime evangelistic temple and lodge into a city-owned downtown retreat for business people.

The Rev. Mr. Soupiet, a licensed Methodist minister, has been pastor of the Little Church since late in 1956 when he arrived from Houston to manage a women's apparel store.

Aim Of Work

"The aim of this effort," he says, "is based upon a much needed ministry to those individuals in the market place who for the most part profess no church affiliation.

"We are not establishing a new church but attempting to bolster those that already exist."

Each evening service is attended by people of a variety of denominations. Since it's located only four blocks from the Alamo, the shrine of Texas liberty, many tourists also drop in for prayer or rest.

Supported By Gifts

The Rev. Mr. Soupiet and his assistant, Robert Harmon, a traveling salesman for a metal products firm, serve without pay. The church's expenses and charitable activities are supported by gifts.

The church considers that it was founded in 1844 when the Rev. John Wesley de Vilbis, the first Methodist minister in San Antonio, bought the site and put a bell on the lot.

Each Sunday, he would summon his flock with the bell and then lead them to services in the court house a few blocks away. The present church was not built until 1876.

Twenty years later, it became
